Finding Your Voice as an Advocate

With Peggy Haack, WECA

Like learning any new skill, learning to be an advocate is a developmental process, and who knows better about what facilitates a developmental process than child care professionals! This workshop helps participants find their voices as advocates through activities that focus on skill-building from this developmental perspective. You'll find out more about what advocacy is and why you should get on board, learn what advocates need, and discover the advocate within! Your voice is important!

Free for Satellite members. $10 per nonmember.

Wednesday, February 29, 6:30 to 8:30 pm. Preceded by Satellite social and open office at 6pm.

Gardening with Children

With Denise Mirkin and Lori Hind, Satellite Providers
